HANCOCK HORIZON DIVERSIFIED INTERNATIONAL FUND

To determine if the Fund is appropriate for you, carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risks and charges and expenses. This and other information including additional share classes offered can be found in the Fund's full or summary prospectus which can be viewed by visiting www.hancockhorizonfunds.com. Read it carefully before you invest or send money.

Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. There are specific risks inherent in international investing. International investments may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from social, economic, or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Current and future holdings are subject to risk. Investments may lose value. Holdings are subject to change.

The MSCI All Country World ex-US Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets, excluding the United States. Index returns do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs, or expenses. It is not possible to invest in an index.

The price to earnings ratio (PE Ratio) is the measure of the share price relative to the annual net income earned by the firm per share. The price-to-book ratio, or P/B ratio, is a financial ratio used to compare a company's current market price to its book value. Up Capture Ratio is a statistical measure used to evaluate how well or poorly a manager performs relative to an index during periods when the index has risen. Down Capture is used to evaluate relative performance during periods when the index has dropped. Allocation effect refers to sector allocation decisions and selection effect refers to stock selection decisions. Active return is the percentage gain or loss of an investment relative to the investment's benchmark.

Horizon Advisers serves as investment advisor for the Hancock Horizon Family of Funds. The Hancock Horizon Family of Funds is distributed by SEI Investments Distribution Co., which is not affiliated with Hancock Whitney Corporation, or any of its affiliates.
