MILITARY LENDING ACT – ADDITIONAL DISCLOSURES AND TERMS FOR ACTIVE DUTY SERVICE MEMBERS AND DEPENDENTS.

The following additional disclosures and terms will apply to the Cardholder Agreement and your account if one or more of you is a "covered borrower" as that term is defined in the Military Lending Act, 10 U.S.C. § 987, and related regulations of the U.S. Department of Defense. Please read the following additional disclosures and terms, which will be applicable to the Cardholder Agreement and your account.

Federal law provides important protections to members of the Armed Forces and their dependents relating to extensions of consumer credit. In general, the cost of consumer credit to a member of the Armed Forces and his or her dependent may not exceed an annual percentage rate of 36 percent. This rate must include, as applicable to the credit transaction or account: The costs associated with credit insurance premiums; fees for ancillary products sold in connection with the credit transaction; any application fee charged (other than certain application fees for specified credit transactions or accounts); and any participation fee charged (other than certain participation fees for a credit card account).

Payment Obligation: Generally, your minimum monthly payment under your account each month shall be the greater of (i) $10.00 or (ii) 2% of the total outstanding balance due on the account as of the monthly billing date or (iii) the total of any interest charge and all outstanding charges and fees. If the total outstanding unpaid balance due on the account is less than $10.00, the minimum monthly payment due shall be such balance. Please refer to the Cardholder Agreement and Disclosure Statement for more detailed information.

Please call (800) 448-8812 to receive a Statement of the Military Annual Percentage Rate and a description of your payment obligation.

Normal credit criteria apply.

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.
